

Facts and Fiction

Lovers and love are a never ending story
Two souls enchanted with one another
An inspiring connection between man and woman
A fascinating tale of entangled fiction and facts
It comes and goes like a little moon in a cloudy night

Love is more fiction than facts
A provocative body language of magic and art
A sensational feeling that transforms life
It takes it from despair back to the start
Making lovers exciting fiction after being boring facts

Lovers are more facts and less fiction
Characters that love to hug, kiss, cry and act
You can see, touch and hear them whisper and chat
And read in their eyes the roles they play in the act
Angles that become in the heat of passion more fiction than facts

Making love is a wonderful affair
It starts and ends in no time
A burning desire that arises and dies so fast
Love is a flower that blooms slowly and ages gracefully
Beautiful memories that refuse to be forgotten
A work of fiction that can forever last

Lovers and love are a story and a story teller

Plays of joy and agonies hoping to live forever

Fiction is displayed by emotions for people to see and read

Facts are told by lovers to encourage others to love and breed

Fiction and facts are destined to become memories

Fading slowly in the fog of a fast disappearing past

No one, however, likes to admit such a sad destiny

Everyone wants to live after the facts and acts

Not knowing that nothing can endure of the past

Except great ideas that are neither fiction nor facts
