

Take a Chance

Today, you have a chance
To fall in love with love
Taste the magic of romance
And dance its joyful dance

Love is a wonderful fate
A rendezvous with destiny
That has never been too late
It comes without warning
To open heaven's gate

A ship full of passion
It comes and goes without a date
Sails against stormy winds
To give soul a loving mate

Love has a beautiful face
It smiles for strangers
Regardless of color and race
Excites the sad and lonely
And walks with pride and grace

It's a journey in dreamland
It takes you faraway places
To visit the never-never-land
Discover Cairo, Genève, and Damascus
Plant new, enchanting memories

And enjoy sea and sand

Today, you have a chance
To be wherever you want to be
Remain in the shadows of life
Or live the life of love to be

A chance to be in love
Is a chance to roam a blue sky
To be whole and free
And let the mind be inspired
By ideas that never die

Loving is a daring dance
It looks you right in the eye
And challenges you to take a chance
Forget old memories
Feel the exciting of the day
In just a glance

So, why wait for a date
You never tasted its taste
When you have a passionate heart
That has no time to waste
And recognizes no age or fate

Love is a wonderful thing
No one can ever see
It penetrates deep in the heart
To plant roots like an olive tree
Bounded by shared dreams

Where sharing is a magical journey
That makes souls joyful and free
