

Walking on the Beach

It was a wonderful day

A lucky one for me

When I saw you smiling

Coming out of the sea

With charming twinkling eyes

Your heart whispered something to me

That only lovers could feel

Understand and see

When they are truly free

As I saw the smiling eyes

My heart got excited

It tried to jump out of me

Embrace you forever

And with you in the wilderness flee

Yes, I said to myself

This is the woman I want to have

Share everything with me

Hold her hand tightly

And dive deep in the sea

Walk along the beach

Hide behind the golden tower

And dream of making love

Under a little pine tree

Only love can make you free

Ready to fly and sail the sea

Make love a passionate game

And be whatever you want to be

So, darling

Let's listen to our hearts

And what love demands

Of you and me

I am ready to be a star

To light the dark allies of life

A king in your court

Even if you are the queen bee
